THE ENGLISH PRESS ON THE WAR. The English papers are amazed at the ex- by the impression that the slaughter at the re- Actor, Girard and Billy Gray have furnished tent of the demands of the government for carrying on our civil war, and warns us that and serious. Considering that (on our own the sum asked for on loan by the secretary of the treasury for the operations of a single year the treasury for the operations of a single year sively of raw volunteers, this battle was a rare of which we will give our readers. is nearly equal to that which the wars of William III., and the Spanish succession entailed ence as a separate confederation. They are daily acquiring fresh force, consistency and the feeling that it has submitted to a terrible cohesion. They have an army which is better officered than the army of the North, and they have vener's of war which are commanded by experienced and enterprising officers. When it is remembered that for more than three menths Fort Sumfer has been in the possession of these Secessionisls, and that it was taken at a loss of some two hundred men—that Fort Pickens, commanding the entry of the Gulf of Mexico, is also in passession of the -it does seem to us that it is rather late in the dry to argue the legal right, as Mr. Lincoln

The kind of arguments in which Mr. Lincoln measuress would doubtless have brought back the State to the Union. But now we have more than a third of the States which composed the Union declaring their withdrawal from it, and the dispute ceases to be one as to the true interpretation of the constitution and the states of each State and assumed the character of a legitimate struggle for independence. It mathers very little now which side reads the constitution right. The question is now not one of technical right or wrong, but of practical top of technical right or wrong to the character of a charact
